PRESS RELEASE

Mobile Security in the course of digital transformation

At CeBIT 2017, ISEC7 Group informs about protecting mobile infrastructures.

Hamburg, March 9, 2017 – At this year's CeBIT, the enterprise mobility expert ISEC7 Group (ISEC7) informs about current security challenges and requirements when mobilising business processes. The Hamburg based company exhibits at stand J28, hall 6, together with the BlackBerry® subsidiary Secusmart, a reliable partner of the Federal Government for tap-proof mobile communications. Since 2013, ISEC7 has been cooperating with Secusmart in the areas of international sales and the integration of SecuSUITE for Enterprise & Government. The product protects telephone calls, text messages, emails and other data on smartphones against bugging operations.

At CeBIT, ISEC7 presents BlackBerry's current portfolio: BlackBerry UEM for managing smartphones, tablets and Windows 10 computers as well as BlackBerry Dynamics for the secure integration of messaging, collaboration and applications into companies' networks. ISEC7 is certified for the integration of secure document management based on BlackBerry Workspaces and holds a specialisation for the crisis communications solution AtHoc.

Marco Gocht, CEO ISEC7, says: „At the CeBIT 2017, we put a focus on Mobile Security – one of our core issues. Anybody who mobilises data needs to protect it. We consult companies and our partners in all aspects of secure mobilisation. Thereby, ISEC7 enhances the classical approaches by Monitoring, Two-Factor Authentication, Active-Sync auditing and Monitoring, App Reputation and Mobile Threat Management. Thus, we offer our clients a holistic approach to security for the use of mobile endpoints and managed devices."

From March 22 to 24, 2017, visitors are invited to discuss with ISEC7 experts at stand J28, hall 6. To arrange an appointment with the ISEC7 Management, please send a request until March 13, 2017 to: info@isec7.com
